Health & Safety Progress

Equestrian Health & Safety Vision

Equestrian Australia (EA) aims to provide a healthy and safe environment (competition and training) to protect riders, horses, coaches and officials with:

- protective and preventative measures that mitigates risk;
 - education that informs, develops skills and builds knowledge;
 - tools that aid compliance; and
 - proactive monitoring and tracking of performance
- for all stakeholders involved with the sport.

We have also established a National Health & Safety Committee to oversee issues across all disciplines in the sport.

Where we were

The 2019 Coronial Inquest findings, following two rider fatalities, resulted in 31 recommendations to improve safety in eventing for EA to implement.

ACTION PLAN

Equestrian Health & Safety

April 2021 audit

The first audit of the Coronial recommendations found:

- 18 had been completed;
- 11 were partially complete; and
- 2 were incomplete.

How we are going

As at August 2021.

In addition to this, EA implemented a number of proactive measures across all disciplines in the sport to take the lead on equestrian safety.

EQUESTRIAN
AUSTRALIA

The Coronial Inquest presented an opportunity to raise the level of health & safety across the entire sport and take a leading position for our industry.

Focus

EA is committed to developing a strategic health & safety plan and practices for:

RIDERS/ATHLETES

We aim to provide a healthy, safe and nurturing environment with comprehensive training & education.

HORSES

Promote best-practice equine welfare for horses during training and competition.

ENVIRONMENT

Strategically designed events, club and training activities that minimise risk with swift health and safety responses.

Method

EA is committed to providing essential health & safety measures including:

TAKE ACTION

Continuous Improvement

Equestrian Health & Safety

TOOLS

Systems, processes, equipment and regulations to protect all parties.

TRAINING

Stakeholders and participants well informed, engaged and educated on systems, processes and protocols.

TRACKING

Continuously improve our compliance and safety record through measuring, tracking and developing insights.

Tracking the Numbers

RIDER FALLS

6892 XC Starters
214 rider falls

HORSE FALLS

6892 XC Starters
13 horse falls

Without accurate reporting and comprehensive data across all disciplines, we cannot measure how we are going, identify issues and create strategic action plans.

We need to broaden the scope of reporting from only falls to all incidents and unplanned occurrences to learn from the data and save lives.

Data supports informed business decisions, identifies training gaps and provides insight into health & safety project targets and spend.

Leading the Way

SETTING NEW STANDARDS FOR EQUESTRIAN

From the initiatives developed to protect, prevent and be proactive, we have received positive feedback internationally and across the industry.

The initiatives showing the ability to shift the needle for health and safety including compliance.

- Improved incident reporting and consistent reporting process for Medical Service Providers (MSP)
- Updated concussion protocols, process & training including MyEA tracking concussion incidents to comply with Sport Australia protocols
- Development of Risk Management and Medical Services Provider Framework to support our committee and clubs
- National Health, Safety & Welfare Forums
- Improved communications - health & safety on meeting agendas, website, social media comms, presentations, conferences
- Critical Incident training to support the first responders
- Research - recognised for work done and supporting data-driven decision-making
- Establishing a National Health & Safety Committee
