

DRESSAGE

Dressage tests are to be ridden at the allocated time. If there is a conflict with other classes, the dressage time is to take priority.
Riders must have the allocated bridle number displayed on both sides of the horse for dressage tests (either on the saddle blanket or bridle).
The preparatory test may be called, all other tests must be ridden from memory.
Tests are available from the Equestrian Australia website, www.equestrian.org.au
When a horse is entered in more than one combined training class, and the the test is the same for both classes, the test is ridden once..
N/A is shown on the draw to indicate the horse is entered in the class, but the test has already been ridden in another combined training class.
